School District faces cut in state aid

By ALISON ALOISIO

The news on the state aid to education front for next year is "pretty poor," Supt. Kent Rosberg told the SAD44 School Board Monday.

Preliminary figures based on the state Legislature's current budget-planning scenario show SAD44's state funding could drop between $110,000 and $175,000 for the FY'03 school year. Last year, the district received approximately $2.2 million from the state, out of a total general fund budget of $8.2 million.

Rosberg said that every $40,000 increment translates to about 1 percent on the local share, if towns agreed to make up the difference.

"Those are not pretty figures," said Rosberg. "It will present us with some clear challenges, particularly in light of the capital improvement projects we've been discussing."

The district has been putting together a referendum proposal for capital improvements at Telstar and the former Ethel Bisbee School.

Rosberg, now in his fifth year as superintendent, said: "This will be the most difficult budget year I've had with you."

The budget situation also comes in the context of several previous years that, he said, have "allowed us to grow in our programs."

The district was able to expand its

Following three recent accidents on Route 26

By ALISON ALOISIO

Last Wednesday — for the third time in a month — employees at Serenity Corners called 911 to report a serious car accident. The business is located on Route 26, across from Telstar High School.

Since Dec. 7, one person has been killed and two injured in the three accidents near the school.

The first involved two cars and resulted in a fatality. In the second, a chip truck rear-ended a van waiting to turn into Telstar, injuring the van's driver. In the third, a car leaving Telstar struck a pickup truck, which rolled over twice. The woman driving the pickup was taken to the hospital with a possible concussion. Her five-year-old daughter was uninjured.

None of the accidents have involved Telstar students, but the frequency has Dr. Amy Yasko, owner of Serenity Corners, worried. She said many vehicles, including tractor trailer trucks, go too fast along the stretch in front of the school. She said she's afraid the time will come when there is an

Don Bennett says there was 'no crisis'

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The lone selectman to vote earlier this month to reappoint John Gray to the Bethel Water District Board of Trustees said Tuesday he believes that with adequate time the communication problems between the two boards would have worked themselves out.

On Jan. 3, the selectmen voted 4-1 to replace Gray, who was completing his first term on the board, with Mike Broderick. For the past year, Gray had also served as board chairman.

In comments following the vote, selectmen cited long-standing communication problems, and an inability to get information from the district.

According to selectman Al Barth, frustration over the situation "culminated in the conclusion that if we can't get information from the current board, we're just going to have to change it."

But his fellow selectman, Don Bennett (who voted to reappoint Gray), said he did not believe the situation had reached the point where it was appropriate to oust Gray.

"I certainly have nothing against Mike Broderick," Bennett said. "I think he's probably a very good man — that's not my beef, and I shared the same concerns my fellow selectmen had about information, that it should be forthcoming in order for us to make decisions."

'There was no crisis'

But Bennett said: "The thing that I didn't see is that the sky was falling — to me it wasn't. There was no crisis."

"I think everyone that was involved in this knew that with time 99 percent of the information that we asked for was ultimately going to get turned over to us."

"Finally," Bennett said, "I think it's a bad message to send to the public that when you have good people who volunteer for duty and then you turn around and ask them to step down because of interoffice or inter-bureaucracy wrangling. I just can't see where this was justified."

First-time innkeepers credit the Bethel community with getting them started

By REBECCA ZICARELLI

Alexandra (Alex) LaNoue-Adler had a dream — a country inn where she could develop her catering business; a quiet place, away from the hustle of New York for her newborn daughter to grow up.

But the New York City native and her husband, Adam, had recently moved from Manhattan to White Plains. He was a monitor engineer, helping with the sound for live concerts by top recordings for stars including Paul Simon, Sting, and Mariah Carey.

Adam loved his work. He began in London, where he's from, and he thrived on the opportunities he found in New York. (He is quick to point out he didn't get to deal with famous recording artists; he got to deal with their managers and handlers.) "I'm the guy who twiddles the knobs," he said.

He also didn't get in on the riches of the stars, and supporting a family required working long, hard hours.

While Adam worked, Alex dreamed. "We were holding a marriage over the phone," she said.

Web surfing for an inn; finding a home

Alex took to surfing the Internet, looking for that country inn, chasing her dream. She remembered trips to Maine as a child, and she looked for an inn on the coast. Everything was too expensive. Then, her search engine led her to a Web site about Bethel.

She and Adam made a trip here, staying at the Sudbury Inn. Alex fell in love. "I felt safe and serene here," she said. "It's beautiful. You can see mountains from the top of Main Street."

Bethel freestyler, 15, competing in Xtreme Games

By ALISON ALOISIO

Freestyle skier Simon Dumont, 15, of Bethel will compete in the Winter X Games today (Thursday) in Aspen, Colo.

Dumont, a sophomore at Telstar High School, was among the top five finishers out of 140 competitors in a qualifying event last week in Utah, according to his dad, Francis Dumont.

Simon competes in the freestyle category of the Xtreme Games, which also features extreme snowboarding competitions.

Although Simon was going up against mostly adult skiers, Francis said he had faith his son had the talent to do well.

After all, Simon had performed the first-ever "1080" maneuver at Sunday River's Bust 'n Burn freestyle competition event two seasons ago. The trick consists of doing three, 360-degree rotations off a jump.

"He called me last Wednesday night at 11 o'clock and said, 'I did it!'" said Francis. Simon finished fourth of the five qualifiers, performing inverted and rail tricks, and other jumps. Competitors are rated on style points.

Simon has trained with the Sunday River Freestyle Program for many years (see photo, page 8). But Francis also credits his son's gymnastics background for his success.

Simon competes in summer gymnastics camps, but they serve now mainly to support his skiing skills, Francis said. Simon has skied since he was two.

Simon and the other five qualifiers will go up against veteran X-Game skiers. The event will be televised on ESPN in early February.

Next Tuesday, Simon will move on to Vail, Colo., where he will compete in the U.S. Freestyle Open. He will have been away from home a total of three weeks by the time his competitions end, Francis said.

AN OUTSTANDING TRUSTEE

To the Editor:

Regarding John Gray not being appointed as trustee of the Bethel Water District.

1) The selectmen were invited to a trustee meeting on July 17, 2001, 3 p.m., to discuss issues of communication with each board and how the Water District functions. Only two selectmen showed up for the meeting (Don Bennett and Bob Everett). At this meeting, Mr. Gray offered to meet with the selectmen one-on-one periodically. To my knowledge, the selectmen have not responded to this invitation.

2) Mr. Gray is a brilliant man and his service as a trustee has been outstanding. He has always found the time to meet with me regarding Water District issues. His business knowledge has been an asset for the district. I would like to thank him for his help and guidance. He definitely helped put the Water District in the right direction.

The Bethel Water District trustees are dedicated to their service. Each one of them brings his talents and uses them to work hard dealing with the ever-changing rules and regulations of drinking water. They work as a team and always have the ratepayers in mind when making a decision.

Lucien G. Roberge
Superintendent

SHOCKING AND EMBARRASSING

To the Editor:

For the past 25 years, I have worked with many trustees. The selectmen's decision to not reappoint John Gray was a shock to all of the staff here at the Water District office. I believe that input for a decision of that magnitude should have been sought from others; doing so would have been in the best interest of customers of the Bethel Water District and even the taxpayers of Bethel. It takes a special person to put in many hours of their time and energy for pay that probably doesn't even cover gas money.

If the town and the Water District could put as much energy into planning for our future as these embarrassing moments, we would all be better off.

Don Katlin
Assistant Superintendent, Bethel Water District

WHY THE RUSH TO JUDGMENT?

To the Editor:

It was my intent to present to the customers of the Bethel Water District and the citizens of Bethel some hard facts relating to recent events centering around an appointment, and refusal to reappoint, a dedicated trustee of the Water District, John Gray.

But I have decided to remain silent on this subject for the time being for what I feel to be two valid reasons. First, I expect this paper will have more on this subject this week. Secondly, and most important, I gather that conversations between members of both boards have been, or are being, conducted which can only be of great benefit in bringing this matter to a more logical conclusion. I am available if anyone wants to talk with me.

I do have a question for the Board of Selectmen, however. Why the rush to judgment on John Gray? The rule is that Water District trustees, regardless of their terms of appointment, continue to serve until relieved/replaced. There was nothing magic about the date Jan. 2. The board could have waited a bit longer, asked a few more questions, and certainly had better information on which to base any decision.

CAMERA CAN HELP SAVE LIVES

To the Editor:

The Bethel Fire Department is raising money toward the purchase of a Thermal Imaging Camera; our goal is to raise approximately $20,000. The American Legion Mundt-Allen Post 81 of Bethel has been generous enough to pledge a dollar-for-dollar match up to the amount of $10,000 toward this goal. We hope that with the generous support of the community we will have no problem raising the other $10,000 needed for this purchase.

The firemen of Bethel are very grateful for the overwhelming support given us over the years, and hopefully for many years to come. We spent hundreds of hours training in a variety of different areas to give the best service possible, and this camera will only enhance our abilities. Many people may have seen these on television; they are incredible machines that give the ability to see in the darkness, thick smoke, or even through walls making search and rescue much faster and safer for the firefighter. These can also be used to find hot spots in walls or attics at chimney and electrical fires.

In closing, we welcome anyone to donate, but we would like to see the ins, condos, hotels, motels, bed and breakfasts and rental properties that may be empty one night and have five to 50 people in them the next, making our job very hard and at times very scary, come through for us to match the Legion's extremely generous pledge.

Donations may be made to Bethel Fire Department, PO Box 1660, Bethel, ME 04217.

Assistant Chief, Bethel Fire Department

OUR LADY OF SNOWS CENSUS

To the Editor:

The Parish Council of Our Lady of the Snows in Bethel is in the process of developing a parish census. It is our intention that this be as accurate and complete as possible. In order to complete this census, it is necessary to enlist the help of all parishioners.

Anyone who is or would like to be a member of our parish, please contact Father Lebel at St. Catherine's in Norway or one of the following council members: Ruth Cunningham, 665-2364; Kay McMillin, 824-2324; Felix or Sheila Otero, 665-2725; Vicki Smith, 836-3204.

We would appreciate the help.

A GNARLED, SNEERING INTRUSION

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to Peter Haines' letter in the Jan. 10 edition of The Bethel Citizen.

Do people from away have the right to squawk regarding property they own in Bethel? Isn't it possible for people from away to fall in love with the town for its quiet way of life, Norman-Rockwell-plate Main Street, natural beauty, to move here and feel as passionate about their homes as the locals?

A home is our refuge. We can shut the blinds if we want, turn off the news and sit peacefully bereft of the darkness that so sadly pervades our world. A home is our place of worship. We are free to pray, to lift grateful hands to God, to sing hymns, to say a simple Grace. A home is the quilt of our lives, colored with rich, colorful memories that craft a beautiful life — births of children, shared grief over loved ones, long, lazy Sunday evening dinners, sparkling Christmas mornings. A home is where our lives unfold and stretch out before us.

So, you see, it is not just the wooden structure the homeowners on the Intervale Road are squawking about. I can't blame the discontent surrounding the rock-crushing operation on the Intervale Road.

I can imagine the bliss of these homeowners when they moved into a quiet part of country life, their dream shattered by clearing of land, presence of people noise where once was crickets' song, rumbling of trucks.

It would be one thing if these homeowners bought their homes with the rock crushing in full swing. That would have been a choice. It's quite another thing to buy a home with hopes and dreams and aspirations of a quiet existence only to be forced to live with a situation one never planned on at all.

It feels like a rape, a gnarled, sneering intrusion.

I know this feeling. I live on the pipeline put in a few years ago. (I know, I know, you people are tired of hearing about it. Stop rolling your eyes and bear with me.)

I did not want to live on the pipeline. I tend to live on the cusp of toxic angst. Quite frankly, it made me nervous. Roger Zimmerman summed it up at a Town Meeting when he said, "It's a bomb. All you need is a flame."

As troubling was the manner in which I was treated in my own home when I refused to sign the map of the pipeline. The more I refused, the more men they sent, more curt and rude as they came.

Oh, there was squawking in East Bethel.

Did anybody complain about the squawking in Albany regarding the casino? Those fine folks fought the valiant fight for their quiet corner of town. I, too, would have objected to the traffic, noise and questionable caliber of some individuals the casino might have attracted.

Here's my suggestion. Tired of all that squawking on the edges of Bethel? Put the rock-crushing operation, the pipeline, the casino right in Bethel Village. Oooh, you ain't heard nothing yet.

Tricia Chappie
East Bethel

WALKING FOR A BREAST CANCER CURE

To the Editor:

Many of us, if not most, know someone who has had breast cancer, perhaps even died of it. I lost a favorite aunt to this disease, as well as a dear friend. While I can't personally find a cure, I can do something about it. In 2002 I'm taking on the challenge of participating in the Avon Breast Cancer three-day walk May 17-19. We'll walk 60 miles in three days, from Fitchburg, Mass., to Boston, Mass. My task, besides training for all that walking is to raise a minimum of $1,900 in donations from sponsors, but I hope to raise $3,000. The money goes to fund early detection of breast cancer, and research for a cure. I'll be doing this in memory of my aunt and friend, as well as in honor of many friends and acquaintances who are survivors.

I'm asking people in the Bethel area to help by donating to the cause: The simplest way to make a donation is online at www.BeThePeople.com/donations/online.html. I'm registered as Dolores Hoeh (not Lorrie), my participant number is 2308, and the event code is 3DBO-2002. Another way to donate is to contact me at 836-3011 for a donor form to fill out and mail in.

I hope many people will join me in this challenge at whatever level is comfortable. As I trudge the historic route from Fitchburg to Boston, I'll be thinking of all the generous folks who sponsored me. Thanks.

THANKS FOR HELP WITH THE RACE

To the Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to all the athletes, coaches, and volunteers who participated in the Mt. Abram USSA/MARA Schiavi Cup Slalom on Jan. 6. This event was the first USSA sanctioned competition in many years at the resort. We are especially grateful to the Sunday River Competition and Events Department for their support and experience. Thanks again to all for the help.

HANOVER REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

To the Editor:

An invitation is issued to all registered Hanover Republicans to caucus at 7 p.m. on Monday, Jan. 21 at my home in Hanover (364-7604). The main purpose of the biennial caucus is to allow registered voters who are enrolled in the Republican Party to elect delegates and alternates to the Republican State Convention that will be held at the Augusta Civic Center on May 3 and 4.

Other business of the caucus will include the organization of the local committee and the nomination of members to the Oxford County Republican Committee.

All local Republicans are encouraged to attend the caucus and take part in the political process in this very important election year.

Richard Burns
Chair, Hanover Republican Committee

LOVELL DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

To the Editor:

Lovell Democrats are invited to attend a town caucus on Caucus Day, Feb. 10. The caucus will be held at the Lovell Town Office on Route 5 at 2 p.m.

Holding a town caucus is basic to the democratic process. It is the most grass roots aspect of all political activities. Town parties and by-laws are approved at a local caucus. It is an opportunity to voice individual concerns about the issues that are most critical.

This year, Lovell has been allotted three delegates to the state convention that will be held May 31 to June 1 at the Augusta Civic Center. Delegates to the convention and their alternates will be chosen at town caucuses. The state convention is an opportunity to network with numerous people from all over Maine. There will be a debate and floor vote on the state party platform and membership in the state committee will be chosen.

Unenrolled voters may also register on Caucus Day. If you have any questions, contact me at 928-3712.

Toni Seger
Caucus Convener

Water District

No information in hand yet

The material the selectmen want to see includes information about the district's capital planning, capacity and engineering support.

In May of 2001 Town Manager Scott Cole asked for the information. The following month Gray responded, providing some information and acknowledging a communication problem between the Water District and the Board of Selectmen.

But much of the information sought by the selectmen was not included in Gray's letter, and in November Cole formalized the request in a letter to trustees.

To date, the only reply the town has had, Cole said Wednesday, is a letter from the Water District's attorney contending that providing the information would be unduly costly to ratepayers.

Attorney Charles Abbott said he had "a problem with the extensive list of documents which you have requested. The production and compilation of these documents will be time-consuming. I really fail to see why the ratepayers of the Bethel Water District should incur expenses for this type of work."

Abbott also asked to know under what authority the selectmen sought the information.

Cole argues that all of the material in question is, under Maine law, a matter of public record.

The matter, he said, has been referred to the town's attorney.

Corriveau claims standing

BETHEL—The Bethel Planning Board voted unanimously last week that a site plan review application from Darlene Corriveau/Freedom Square Development lacked standing and could not yet be reviewed. A deed, lease or sales contract must be included, according to the Site Plan Review Ordinance. Corriveau's CAPIISH (Community Attributes People Involved in Self-Help) project, planned for a house on Summer Street, would provide job training. Corriveau contends she has standing because she has a letter from the property owner, Franklin Harrington, stating they have a purchase and sale agreement. But the town's legal counsel, Robert J. Crawford, said the board should require a copy of the written purchase and sale agreement.

Legion to help with camera fund

BETHEL—Mundt-Allen American Legion Post #81 has pledged to help the Bethel Fire Department raise funds to purchase a $19,000 thermal imaging camera. The post will match any amount raised by the department, up to $10,000. Post Commander Richard Farren said in a letter to Fire Chief Jim Young. The camera allows firefighters to see in the darkness, thick smoke, or even through walls, making search and rescue faster and safer. They can also be used to find hot spots in walls or attics at chimney and electrical fires. (see Letter to Editor, page 2)

Turnout strong for community day

NEWRY—Nearly 800 people received free lift tickets during the first Community Day offered by Sunday River. More than 300 received free rentals and another 50 took part in complimentary clinics for first-time skiers and riders. Residents in SADs 17, 43, and 44 are eligible to participate. The remaining Community Days for SAD44 are Feb. 3 and 24 and April 7. For SADs 17 and 43, the next day is Jan. 27. Also planned are two other Community Days at night for SAD44, on Jan. 31 and Feb. 28. Residents may tube and ice skate at the White Cap Fun Center. Children participating must be on a district list provided by each superintendent's office. Adults may show a driver's license, tax bill or other official document to prove residency.

Bill Koch League planned

BETHEL—A Bethel chapter of the Bill Koch Youth Ski League is being established this season, according to the Bethel Outing Club. The league is a children's recreational ski program that emphasizes fun on the snow through games, short ski tours, skill development, and play. Children from preschool through grade eight may participate. The annual $20 fee entitles members to participation in all events. Children 5 and under may attend events at no cost. An informational meeting and potluck will take place at the Sunday River Inn Jan. 27 at 12:30 p.m. There will be group ski activities and videos. For further information or to volunteer as a co-instructor, call Bridget Logan at 824-6293.

Graham serving in Americorps

ATLANTA, GA.—Bethel native Kate Graham is currently serving as an AmeriCorps volunteer at Hands On Atlanta. The volunteers provide 10 months of stipended service to Atlanta-area youth by facilitating literacy-improvement programs at local schools. Graham's position entails mentoring, coordinating volunteers, advising after-school programs and acting as a personal role model for children.

Pair spends three nights in woods

ERROL, N.H.—A man and woman spent three nights stranded in the woods near the Maine-New Hampshire border after their sport utility vehicle slid off a bridge. Dan Aiken, of Derry, N.H., and Darlene Landry of Wilmington, Mass., spent the next two days digging the vehicle out from a creek bed about 10 miles from Route 16 in Errol. Last Sunday, the pair was heading home from a country music concert in Rangeley when they turned onto the logging road. "It was a really pretty road and we kept driving, about 10 miles," Landry said. "The snow started getting thicker and we tried to turn around near this small bridge. It was icy and we slid almost seven inches off the road into a six-foot ditch of water. It was getting dark, and they decided to spend the night in the truck. Their cell phones would not work in the remote location. Their family members, meanwhile, had reported them missing, and Maine State Police were tracing their movements through credit card records. Monday, the radio forecast called for snow. The pair broke into a cabin and found it stocked with firewood and canned macaroni. Landry said they spent all of Tuesday digging the truck out. "Dan had a winch. We tied it to a tree across the road and finally got the truck out and turned around. We stayed one more night and then started driving out," she said. The first mile and a half was slippery as the pair headed out Wednesday. But they soon hit a plowed stretch. "We started crying when we found out we were probably going to be OK," she said.

Hostage standoff ends with suicide

HOLDERNESS, N.H.—A man shot himself to death after taking a woman hostage and holding authorities at bay for several hours Saturday. Police told reporters at a news conference that the man killed himself. A SWAT team had been called in, and police surrounded the home. A state police dispatcher said the man is believed to be a Minnesota fugitive who may have followed his estranged girlfriend to New Hampshire. Police were called to the woman's house Tuesday night when the man, Paul Joseph Schultz, 36, refused to leave. When they showed up, Schultz was gone. He reportedly had a conviction for stalking and violating a restraining order in his home state of Minnesota. He was also wanted on unspecified charges there.

Maine can weather recession better

PORTLAND—Maine should come through the current recession better than other states because its economic performance was not as dependent on the recent technology boom, a leading economist said. "We didn't go to the dot-com party," said Charles Cogan, a professor of public policy and management at the University of Southern Maine. "We were slow and steady on the way up, and we're going to be slow and steady on the way down. Colgan, a former state economist, said Maine's economic recovery will probably begin in the third quarter of 2002. He said the state will not be hit as hard as it was during the last recession, in the early 1990s. He expects only 9,000 jobs will be lost, as opposed to 35,000 in the early 1990s. Although Colgan expects the recession to last only one year, he said it will still inflict significant pain on Mainers. "There's not an area in the state, not an industry in the state, that's not going to see significant job losses," Colgan said. He said a decline in manufacturing — less severe in Maine than in other states — was largely responsible for the downturn that began early last year. He also warned of a significant risk the recovery will be derailed. Potential troubles, he said, include a deepening global recession, a collapse of the airline industry or another major terrorist attack.

Buyer for N.H. mills expected

BERLIN, N.H.—The consultant overseeing the sale of the North Country's pulp and paper mills says he expects an announcement soon about a potential buyer. "We have two potential buyers of the properties," said Ed Moran, who was hired by the bondholders of the mills in Berlin and Gorham. Moran would not name them, but said one potential sale is far along. The Pulp and Paper of American mills closed several months ago and filed for bankruptcy in September, leaving most of their 860 employees out of work. Moran said there is a cash offer on the table, though it was made with "quite a few qualifiers." The mills are owned by Hauppauge, N.Y.-based American Tissue, which filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection Sept. 10. Since then, the future of the mills has been playing out in a Delaware bankruptcy court. Moran said he is optimistic the mills will be sold, but added he did not want to give "false hope."

From the Bethel Police Log:

Skis race off

At 11:47 a.m. on Jan. 9 a caller reported his son had stopped at a business and on returning to his pickup found someone had taken his racing skis from the back.

Thursday, Jan. 10

At 12:52 a.m. police received a report of a vehicle rollover on Vernon Street. The accident was found to be in Greenwood, but the officer took the information because a Sheriff's deputy was not in the area. The officer detected the smell of alcohol and conducted field sobriety tests. The subject, Peter C. Lewis, 24, was arrested and given a breath test, and then taken to the Oxford County Jail.

Friday, Jan. 11

At 12:22 a.m. police observed four subjects in a car in the parking lot of a closed business. The officer questioned the driver, Jefferson Baker Clark, 21, of Newry, who was subsequently charged with operating under the influence and operating after suspension.

At 11:15 a.m. police arrested Stephen V. Geyer, 34, of Bethel for assault, for pushing a female subject into the back of a vehicle.

Saturday, Jan. 12

At 12:42 a.m. police stopped a subject on Route 26 for erratic operation. Jessica Perry, 24, of Bryant Pond was summonsed for operating under the influence and operating with a passenger consuming alcohol in a motor vehicle on a public way.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log. It lists all cases of adults being arrested or issued a criminal summons, but does not include all reports of other police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Katy Bohr is well on her way to recovery and has returned home to her husband and son in Storrs, Conn.

The Ballroom Dance at Locke Mills Town Hall on Saturday, Jan. 12, with music by the Richard Felt Band, was well attended. The floor for dancing was excellent; you can't find any better anywhere. Bill Green from Channel 6 TV was guest with his cameraman. He was a great sport and joined right in while dancing and interviewing many people. He will show the results of this visit during his program on Feb. 9 at 7 p.m.

Howard Donahue is a surgical patient at Maine Medical Center in Portland.

Al and Lee Barth hosted a potluck supper New Year's Eve that preceded the local activities of Bethel New Year's 2002.

Amy Davis joined Andy and Pat Davis at the University of Southern Maine in Gorham on Saturday at the Invitational Women's Track Meet where Lyndsay Davis participated in the 800. Amy joined Thelma Dombkowski for lunch before the meet.

"Chipper" and Barbara Howe and two daughters from Old Saybrook, Conn., visited Mary and Lefty Keniston recently.

On Saturday, Kathryn Andrews Drown and daughter, Sharon Lowe, visited Mary and Lefty Keniston.

Church services were cancelled on Sunday at West Bethel and the Methodist Church because of the snowstorm, since the pastors need to travel a long distance.

On Dec. 22, Betty Perkins went to the Coolidge Christmas Party at the First Congregational Church in Andover. There was a traditional Christmas dinner served with all the trimmings and a tree with exchange of gifts. There were 30 present to enjoy the good times. Betty then went to Augusta to visit a few days with her sister, Jean Welch. While there she attended a family gathering with dinner and exchange of gifts. On Christmas morning, she went to Winthrop to join Kenny and Beverly Merrill and their son, Kurt from Alaska, who was visiting his parents. They enjoyed a tree turned out Saturday for the Telemark Ski Festival at Mt. Abram. The grand prize of the day was a four-day trip to British Columbia. The event was organized by New England Telemark and sponsored by manufacturers, local shops and ski areas that cater to the tele crowd. Saturday, Jan. 19, at 1 p.m. Mt. Abram held its first annual Mt. Abram Ski Challenge. The giant slalom races will have multiple categories including a parent/child race. Registration begins at 10 a.m. Over $1,000 in prizes will be awarded. There will be an awards presentation and entertainment following the event at the resort's lounge. Sponsor of the race is 180 Sports Drink. Mt. Abram holds Citizens' Races every Saturday (except this week) at 1 p.m. and Maine State Ski Challenge races every Sunday at 1 p.m. For more information, call 875-5002 or visit the Web site at skintabram.com. Mary Lou and Hi Berry entertained several friends Sunday evening before and after everyone enjoyed a delicious dinner at Liam's.

MORE THAN 200 TELEMAR ENTHUSIASTS

Sunday River Valley

by Rockie Graham

This has been a busy week and, at the same time, a lackadaisical week. I spent the past week, and this week, trying to recuperate, still, from my traffic accident. Perhaps there is a light at the end of this tunnel. Not having been able to get an appointment at the Bethel Family Health Center — there appears to be a lot of flu-like complaints going around — I gave up on them and had them refer me to Mike Liberti. I began seeing him last week. He seemed to know exactly what I was talking about and could even identify which ligament I tore. That, at least, was comforting. Now the healing must begin.

I need to give a timely message about the District Exchange. For those of you who do not know about it, it is the Bethel area's very own secondhand store. It has clothing and even a food bank. It is a great resource both for those who need clothes, toys, books, etc., and for those needing a place to bring their "old" clothes, etc. Although the hours are few — Monday, 1 to 4, Thursday, 4 to 6 and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. — it is open to everyone closing up a condo, redoing their closets, etc. Anyone who can't make it there can let someone know. I, for instance, would be willing to pick up things here in the Valley. I hate to see people bringing usable clothing, etc. to the dump and throwing it in the dumpsters. My friend David got two fans there that now decorate my house. They are like new, and I am very pleased with them.

That brings me to another point. It would be great if the towns of Bethel, Hanover and Newry could create a small swap shop at the "Transfer Station." There is much too much really quality items being thrown in the dumpsters. I am sure all our dump attendants would be willing to help. It wouldn't cost much to build — in fact, the materials are probably being dumped there now, anyway. Anyone willing to work on it can give me a call at 824-3427 and it will be brought to the committee.

This Sunday, another storm hit. I kept getting reports of increasingly large amounts of snow. When friend Abi knocked at the door on her way to Vermont, we thought she was nuts because they were predicting 10 to 15 inches. We got her going because in addition to driving to Goddard she had left a friend at the farm. Had we really had that much snow, said friend would have been stranded at the farm. Getting David and she to drive back up to the Twin Bridges and walk in, I phoned Denny Wilson to make sure the road was plowed to Twin Bridges. Thanks, Denny, for getting right on it. In any case, we had Ana and Abi for supper and spending the night. Tasha was beside herself with so much company. Me, too. I'm still not used to having visitors again. We all had a great supper and visit.

Next week, the 24th is the fourth Thursday and that means Bethel Area Poets Society. We have been blessed by an offer from a new poet in our community, introduced by Dotty Duddy. Nora Wax (did I spell it correctly?) has volunteered her house for our poetry reading on the 24th from 7 to 9 p.m. It is in the Fairway Condos at the Bethel Inn at Cedars Unit 572. For more information, give me a call at 824-3427.

That is all for this week. Enjoy the snow as it falls and try to enjoy the events of WinterFest. Have a good week.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

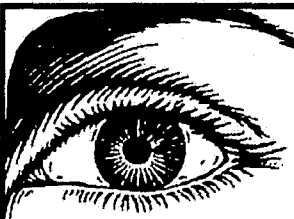

The Tri-Town Solid Waste and Recycle Board sponsored a recycling survey that started last November. According to Jackie Cressy, the response from Hanover was very good with over 30 forms returned. At the January meeting of the Tri-Town Board at the Newry Town Office on Jan. 10, there was a drawing of names from those who participated in the survey for a prize. The winner of two one-day ski tickets at Sunday River Ski Resort was Henrietta List from Hanover.

Bruce and Shirley Powell have returned home from a holiday trip to Florida. Eunice Powell plans to remain in Florida until spring.

The snowstorm last week closed schools and brought out the snowplows. Depth reports indicated eight or nine inches of new snow. It made for better snowmaching, but the snowmobile fans say more snow would be better.

A local family returning home from a shopping spree in New Hampshire had the misfortune of becoming stranded along Route 2 in Bethel when the alternator on their car froze. Thanks to cell phones, the auto club and other assistance were quickly dispatched and everyone was soon safely home.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

As I write this I look out the window and see the quiet, fluffy, crystallized whiteness floating down from the heavens to blanket the earth. There is beauty and purity in the new falling snow. Angels' kisses, Mother Nature's frozen teardrops. The subject of poets and romantics, the white gift of the Gods.

As many of you may guess, I have my own descriptive words for snow, but they are not as poetic or suitable for a family publication as the ones you just read. I have stated before that I hate snow. It's cold and wet and it makes a mess. It impedes travel and ruins plans. When I was a kid I might have liked it, but I don't think so. As an adult, I can't think of anything good to say about it. I don't ski, I don't snowmobile and I don't make snow angels. I just don't like snow.

I know I'm not alone in this sentiment. The minute the weatherman mentions the possibility of 4 to 8 inches, everyone starts to grumble. Somewhere along the line as the grumbling grows things get a bit distorted and 4 to 8 becomes "I heard 6 to 10 inches." And pretty soon someone offers a "12 to 18 inch forecast."

I've always suspected that the loudest grumblers actually have a secret passion for bad snowstorms. I don't grumble about snow; I brood. I can be a pretty serious brooder during a major Nor'Easter. Even if I don't have plans to go anywhere I'll brood because the roads are bad and I feel as though one of my rights has been taken away from me. I guess I take snowstorms as a personal insult. That makes for a pretty long winter.

Having lived in Maine most of my life you'd think I would just accept it and be prepared for it, but no — not me — it would interfere with my brooding.

I am getting better though. This year I have actually started wearing long johns under my clothing and by golly, there is something to be said for it. I'm a lot warmer than I have ever been during the winter.

However, I still found myself during the first major snowfall of the season without boots, hat or gloves. You'd think I'd learn. It's not like winter doesn't roll around every year and I go through this time and again.

The other day, I decided that I should just quit my brooding and go out and buy a pair of boots, a hat and some gloves and act a little more like a normal Mainer. Much to my dismay I found out equipping myself for winter wasn't all that easy.

Take the gloves for example, that's about as basic as you can get in winter wear and shouldn't be a problem, but guess again you snow lovers; it ain't that easy. If I'm going to buy gloves, I'm going to buy warm ones and that narrows the selection down considerably. There's a nice assortment of unlined or barely lined leather, suede and plastic gloves. Nice looking, but not very warm and practical.

Then there's the problem with my fingers. They work just fine and do whatever I expect them to do most of the time, but they're short and fat. Most of the gloves I tried on had a lot of empty space at the fingertips. That just won't do. I found some that fit, but I find it a bit silly at my age to wear anything with Rescue Heroes or Teletubbies on them.

The hat situation was not much better. Call me vain, but I draw the line at wearing something that looks like a knit chamber pot on my head. I'm not really crazy about pom-poms or bunny ears either. The hats that looked good didn't cover my ears and those that did made me look like a doofus.

As it turned out, the gloves and hat were a cakewalk compared to the boots. Boot manufacturers discriminate against women. I'm sure that surprises you, it surprised me too, but it's true. The women's boots were designed for either the very old or the very young. There was one acceptable style boot for women between the ages of 25 and 65. Of these there were two pairs, a size 4 for the very small footed and a size 11 for the somewhat larger footed. I am a size 7, which is very average.

I moseyed on over to the men's section and what do you suppose I found? Rack upon rack of boots in all kinds of styles, colors and sizes. No shortage there no matter the age style, size or need. That's just not fair!

Years ago, many years ago, an abundance of men's boots would have had some logic to it. That would have been in the days when women were basically housebound and the men went out to face the world and bring home the bacon. But, as I said, that was a very long time ago.

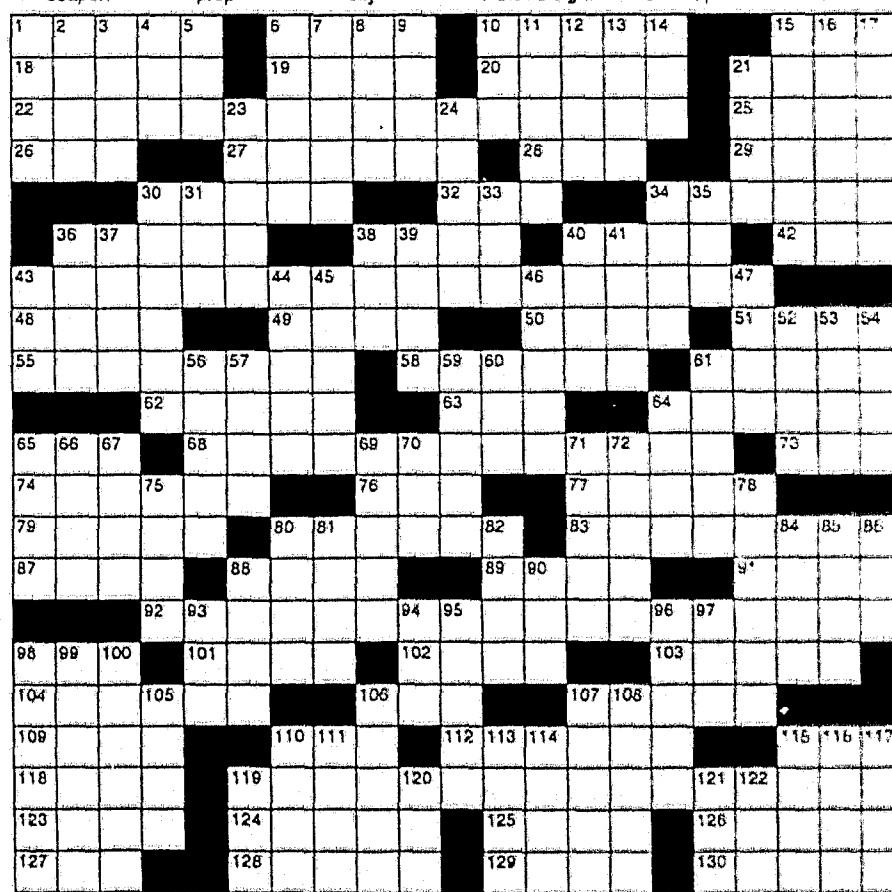

Now the women have to go out just like the men to make a living and they need boots. Who has to go out no matter what the weather to do the grocery shopping? The women, that's who and they need boots. Who are the ones who have to taxi the kids all over the place no matter what the weather? The women do and they need boots.

So what's the deal here? A man can walk into the store and pick out the pair of boots of their choice with no problem. A woman will have to settle on whatever pair of clod hoppers that will fit her. One more reason I hate winter.

The way I see it, if you're into winter recreation you should be pretty happy right about now. So wax up those skis, tune up those snowmobiles and have a wonderful winter. Me, I'll just sit around a brood in my doofus hat and Barbie gloves and brood. No matter how hard I try, I just don't seem to be able to get much of a boot out of winter.

East Bethel

Alder River Grange members — please meet at Nina Mollicone's home on Jan. 19 at 10 a.m. to begin work on the grange quilt. Nina will have needles and threads to work with. Bring cats for lunch, and if you like tea or coffee or other drink, bring it with you.

Charlotte Kimball, Nancy Kimball, Rudi and Barbara Honkala, Roger and Louise Twitchell, Dot Bartlett and Nancy Mercer attended the Bethel Senior Citizens Club dinner and meeting at the Sudbury Inn on Jan. 9.

I have no idea where this 'possum I have come from. He/she showed up around Nov. 25. It does not like snow, as it acted like it did not want to get into it on Jan. 13, but it came and ate the stray cat's food.

Have a good week. God Bless America.

North Newry

by Gil Seeley

Happy birthday to Sylvia Wight and Julia Goodwin (Karlene Bachelder's mother) on her 93rd birthday. "Believing hear, what you deserve to hear, your birthday as my own to me is dear. Bless and distinguish'd days! Which we should prize, the first, the kindest bounty of the skies, but yours gives most; for mine did only lend me to the world; yours gave to me a friend, or friends."

"O, snowflakes, perfect prism of design lit by the sun's pure ray on crimped, green leaf, what sleight of art has formed your luster bright an evanescent thing of ice and light? Brief is your life! So shining swift and fleet! Yet in your span all cosmic powers meet to form a beauty limpid as the dew and build perfection-symmetry in you! Would my brief life thus glow in opulence reflecting hues of omnipotence, to fashion fragile beauty of my soul in frail design to fit the perfect whole!"

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Monday morning arrived glowing with sunshine. It was a great respite after the dismal snowy weekend. It's true that sunshine puts pep in your step. The birds are more lively. The deer are basking in the small areas of sunshine in the woods.

Roger Lavalley arrived home after a week's stay in the Berlin Hospital. He was back on the job before 24 hours had passed. Everyone missed him while he was away. His telephone in the hospital rang quite often with calls from Upton, Errol and out of state. We are all glad he is back home and healthy.

Walter Stanczyk has informed us that the Town Office will be closed on Tuesday, Jan. 22.

The Maine State-Line Snowmobile Club held their first organizational meeting at the Bull Moose Lodge in Cambridge, N. H. There were about 25 snowmobilers in attendance. A covered-dish supper followed the meeting. Fred Bilo-deau contributed a large baked ham to top off the meal. Formation of the club is an idea that has been a long time in coming. Since it will be situated on the New Hampshire/Maine state line, there should be enjoyment and advantages for snowmobilers from both states. Anyone interested should call Dave Demers, trailmaster, at (603) 482-3856. Meetings will be held on the third Friday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Bull Moose Lodge in Cambridge, N. H. You can't miss it as you drive to Errol on Route 26. Drop in and have a cup of hot coffee for on-the-spot information.

The warm weather on the weekend left the lake a mushy mess. We need a few below-zero days to get it back in shape.

A photographer spent some time on the bridge over the Dead Cambridge River on Monday morning. Who could blame him. The river is partially frozen with beautiful mounds of snow on the rocks. It makes a wonderful gurgling noise as it flows down to the lake. It is truly a special place of beauty. There are mink, otter and deer tracks along the banks. The otter tracks head up the lake for many miles, I am told. There aren't any coyote tracks but they can be heard in the distance howling at night.

Last week, I visited with Sylvia and Bill Wight of Newry. They have a wonderful sense of history. While searching out articles for the Bethel Historical Society, they came across the old account books for the town of Upton. The first entries were made in 1873. A beautiful calligraphic style of writing was used for the entries. The treasurer was S.F. Peaslee who was a representative for Coe and Pingree Company for 62 years. Old names such as Godwin, Merrill, Chapman, Douglass, Sargent, Abbott, Brooks and Chase appear on the first few pages. Lumen Sargent, a familiar name in Upton History received a five-dollar bounty for a bear. The last entries were made in book three by Enoch Abbott, a descendant of the founder of the town. The handwriting becomes quite shaky but very legible. He must have been very old while performing his civic duties for the town.

Thank you, Sylvia and Bill Wight, for providing some historical and interesting documents. They will be kept in the town office for safekeeping.

Feed the birds. It is getting more difficult for them to get a healthy meal. The Bird of the Week is a stupid Grackle who missed the flight south in the fall.

Bryant Pond

W.E.S. fifth grade is having a Basket Bingo (Longaberger). Proceeds go to the trip to Boston. Date is Sunday, Jan. 20, at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills. Door opens at 12 noon and bingo is at 1 p.m. It is $10/ticket for 16 bingo games, available in advance. Light lunch and snacks available. Five basket door prizes and four raffle baskets will be given and drawings will be held for consolation prizes. For more information, call 674-3575, 665-2483 or 743-0958 in the evening. Snow date is Jan. 27.

Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens met on Jan. 3 at the town conference room in Bryant Pond. Twenty-six attended and enjoyed a potluck dinner. A short business meeting preceded the dinner. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Vera Cross. A silent auction was held after the dinner. The door prize was won by Avis Hayes. The next meeting is Feb. 7 at the conference room with a potluck dinner and Valentine party. They invite any senior citizen to come and join them. Remember to bring a dish to share and your own place setting for the dinner.

Patch the Pirate Club meets each Wednesday evening at 6:30 p.m. at the Baptist Church, same time as prayer meeting. Sunday services are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., Youth Group will meet twice a month for a while, choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. On Jan. 27, missionary David Rozelle will be at the church for all services. There will be a fellowship dinner after the morning service.

The Historical Society has many exhibits including furniture, art, glass, china, tins, quilts, costumes, tools, old photos, jewelry, postcards and books. There is information on buildings and people years ago in Woodstock and a great deal of local memorabilia. They have a research library and a small museum store. What a remarkable museum building it is. The society congratulates the Norway Advertiser for their anniversary issue. Curator Larry Billings has given a nativity set to the Baptist Church. He got a book with a chapter on Mollycodd in it. It is called "Woman of the Dawn," and it has several other Indian women described in it. Randy Bennett told him about it and he ordered the book from Books n' Things of Bethel. He got a wonderful unexpected Christmas gift from a friend — a diamond tiepin. He has always wanted one.

Curator Billings has given the Historical Society an interesting pair of earrings with a Pharaoh's head on them. The society has a respectable collection of jewelry now. He has also donated a book on the Duke of Wellington to improve the research library. He has also donated some items to the museum store to sell. Do buy a copy of "Hamlin's Gore" and support your society financially. Thanks to society officers and members for their dedication to our cause, and many other people in the area help out as well. The society has great Woodstock memorabilia. The curator is now quite pleased with the research library.

South Woodstock

Alex Poland and Gretchen Brigham were married at the Woodstock Seventh Day Adventist Church on Dec. 23. It was a beautiful wedding. Gretchen's father sang the Lord's Prayer. Pam and Tia, aunts of the groom, and grandmother, Joan Cannulli, and others sang appropriate songs for the occasion. A rehearsal supper was held at the Hope Thurlow Hall. Alex and Gretchen honeymooned in New Hampshire. Alex is the son of Lloyd and Gina Poland formerly of South Woodstock, grandson of Leon and Rosalie Poland of South Woodstock and great-grandson of Claribel Poland.

Kim Poland and friend and Kim's mother, Sandra, have returned from a tour of Germany. They had a wonderful time.

Beverly Poland Dayton has moved into her new home in Georgia. We were saddened by the untimely death of Robert Ripley, who died this past week. He was well known in this area and will be greatly missed. Much sympathy to his wife and family.

Jessie Hart had some tests done at St. Mary's Hospital in Lewiston last week.

Elizabeth Blazier spent several days in the hospital recently. I hope she gets feeling much better real soon.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that old age is not a defeat but a victory, not a punishment but a privilege."

I was intending to mention how shocked I was to see where Ruth Cummings died. Reading her column one would not think she was that seriously ill. She certainly was a spirited lady, and I, for one, will miss her column, and I'm sure I won't be alone.

Last week, I was on the road Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, so I didn't get my column written. This week, I seem to be paying for it, as I am having a problem with my side and back. The pain is quite severe and I would be a lot happier if the doctor could give me a reason for it. I can stand quite a bit of pain if I know what is causing it. But when I'm told that it could be this, or this or that, and am handed a prescription for pain pills, I'm not thrilled. Most of the time pain pills make me feel worse than the pain. Marcia says she's the same way. In fact, she goes so far as to be allergic to some of them. Anyhow, this is not a good time to be laid up. I have a lot of things I want to accomplish this winter.

And speaking of accomplishments, I just signed up for Ray Seames' computer class, and they are looking for more people to fill the class. I said I'd mention it in my column. Maybe someone or some ones would like to take the plunge as I did. If my mind will compute over the pain pills that is.

Diane Thurston and I were in Lewiston Wednesday so she could see her doctor. I met the lady and was quite impressed by her. She is little and cute, which is not my idea of a doctor, but she knows her profession well and is very thorough. So, I have to change my perception of doctors.

I read "The Way I See It" for last week and just thought I might mention that the law says "Stop for pedestrians in the crosswalks." I see people every day expecting you to stop when they suddenly pop out between parked cars. The crosswalk is a car or two down and they don't walk to it, I watch for crosswalks and am more than willing to stop for them, but I don't stop if people are two cars from the crosswalks. And while I'm about it, what about those people who stand in front of the crosswalks and don't want to cross? I stop and they just glance at me and turn away. I think this would be a lot better place if people would just be a little more thoughtful and considerate. We all flub up sometimes, but let's try not to make a habit of it; especially me.

Albany

by Sheila Dyke
Loving this balmy, unwinterlike winter.
Of course, it's gonna get colder now

(How many out there are getting colds because it will be warm one day, cold the next? We've got the sniffles at our place.)

The Albany Youth Group will be holding another bake sale Feb. 2 at the Bethel Foodliner (IGA) from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. As usual, we're counting on you folks to help us get rid of some very nice homemade baked goods, while at the same time helping out the Youth Group. Most likely, it will be either or both Dana and I sitting at the table that day. We look forward to seeing you there.

The kids at Youth Group are sounding very good. We've had two rehearsals so far, and, I have to say, they're sounding very good. Even the little ones lend their voices to those of the older kids.

These kids had worked very hard last year to raise money to be able to go to camp during the summer, bunches of outings with the group, and to be able to hold their meetings at the community hall every Friday night. The kids helping with the bake sales, etc., are all volunteering their time, too (and on a Saturday at that). I know I find myself every now and again thinking that the kids today have it made and that they don't really know what hard work is. And, then, every now and again, they manage to change my mind. They do more than just bake sales — they also do community work as well. It's these very same kids that on Sundays will volunteer to watch the younger kids during church services; they've volunteered at the Bethel Food Pantry; and they've also picked up trash along the sides of roads. We're very proud of this group of kids, and we want to thank each and every one of you who purchase food from the bake sales, or buy a raffle ticket, or, during the summer months, come up to Albany for the church suppers. We're hoping that as the kids in the Youth Groups grow so, too, will the number of members. We welcomed two new members last week, and hope to see them (and their parents) at more meetings as well as church services.

Sunday School begins at 9 a.m., with services following at 9:30. As usual, childcare will be provided by one of our hardworking youths. After services this Sunday there will be a Fellowship, where the congregation meets in the vestry for refreshments and, well, fellowship. We are hoping for a large turnout.

It is finally winter and I am still in Maine. My vacation came at Thanksgiving when I flew to Santa Fe, N.M. Instead of enjoying a warm state, the weather was much colder than where I had come from. Snow and sleet and rain and very windy there. My son, Allen, and his wife, Myrna, took time off to give me a good time. Grandchildren, Amber and Aaron, were home from college. The flights were good, but I did get pulled out of line as I went through the x-ray machine and had to open the carry-on bag. There was a big bag of Mac apples in it, which showed up as bottles. And bottles were surely not allowed.

The Universalist Church, with Minister Joy Gasta, meets at 9 a.m. The sermon topic for Jan. 20 will be "The Man Who Was a Fool," a Martin Luther King sermon based on a parable of Jesus resonates for us today. The organist is Jim Burke.

Wednesday, Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. the church board will meet with Bob and Cili Rice. If the roads are bad, they will meet at Beverly Stevens'.

At last there is enough snow for the snowmobiles to run. Vince Stevens took a trip to Newry and Andover this week.

Buffy is still well having survived the summer. He really enjoys the colder weather with his thick coat at his best.

Hi readers. Not too much news this week. What's every body doing?

Molly Nelson is home from Endicott College and doing an internship for the month of January with a guidance counselor in the SAD72 district in Fryeburg and Lovell. This work will help her grades in her college work.

Matthew Nelson has become co-captain of his ski team at Fryeburg Academy. He will enjoy that. Matt went to Boston recently for an audition at Emerson College. Good luck, Matt.

Albert Nelson has a new truck — finally. Hope he likes it. I think I do already.

Frances Grant took Jo Ann Hartford out to lunch one day last week, to celebrate her birthday. Happy birthday, Jo Ann.

Last weekend the area lakes and ponds were frozen over and many people were out there with fishing gear and crowds were skating. It looked like a lot of fun. Now the ice is covered with snow.

Eleanor Smith is in the Bridgton Hospital. Hope you're lots better, Ellie. Also, Milton Barker has been in the hospital. Hope you're better now, too, Milt.

Six members of Stoneham Church met at the home of Mary Grover Wednesday night, Jan. 9. Secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Next meeting will be in March.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE GAMES

Duplicate Bridge is played every Friday morning at 9 a.m. at the Town and Country Mobil Home Park Community Center in Norway. The next game will be Friday, Jan. 18. A partner is always guaranteed in this relaxed social setting.

Results from the Jan. 11 game are: first, Della Starbird and Jo Beatty; second, Mimi Bell and Rowena Palmer; third, Pat and Mike Quinn; fourth, Don Johnson and Eleanor Griffin.

Directions from the north: Route 26 to Norway, turn left at high school, continue south on Route 26, two blocks from Swan Supply is Mobil Station and Express Lube, turn right onto Town and Country Drive, which is directly opposite, go two blocks into the park. For more information, call Rowena Palmer (743-2882) or Mimi Bell (743-8081) or e-mail: bridge@megalink.net

From the Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

On Jan. 12, the Bethel Historical Society opened its first major exhibit of the new year, entitled "Plants and Animals in Peril: Maine's Endangered Species." This special exhibit in the Regional History Center's 1821 Robinson House attracted a good attendance for those interested in the distinctive and fragile ecology of the Pine Tree State. A collaborative project of the George B. Dorr Museum of Natural History at the College of the Atlantic in Bar Harbor, the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, and Acadia National Park, the display is an educational experience that employs examples of lesser-known animals and plants of Maine that are either threatened or endangered to highlight the problems involved in saving species from extinction. At the same time, the exhibit celebrates Maine's unique biodiversity. The display uses a variety of concepts and media to create interactive, visually oriented exhibits that will appeal to both children and adults. The exhibit is on loan to the society from the Dorr Museum of Natural History and will be available to visitors during business hours, Tuesday through Friday, 1 to 4 p.m. and by appointment through the end of April. There is no admission charge.

Another issue of the society's quarterly publication, The Courier, will be out soon. Anyone wishing a complimentary copy should call the society office at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or write P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012 or e-mail: info@bethelhistorical.org

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Don't forget that all are welcomed to come to the Business After Hours tonight at the Sunday River Brewing Co., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. sponsored by Oxford Networks. There will be lots of food, beverages and door prizes for those attending.

The snow is here, which guarantees a fantastic Bethel WinterFest 2002, sponsored by New England Jeep Dealers. The event will kick-off with several events on the weekend of Jan. 26 and 27. Snowmobile enthusiasts will enjoy the second annual Antique Snowmobile Show and Grooming Rodeo from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the Parkway/Lincoln Street lot. All the major manufacturers of snowmobiles will be represented as well as two of the manufacturers of snow grooming equipment, Bombardier and Rotobac. Demos and fun for all ages will be the order of the day. Food will be provided by the Bethel Fire Department. You can take a break at noon to take "the plunge" (or watch others) into the Androscoggin River at Bethel Outdoor Adventures. The second annual Polar Plunge is to benefit the Bethel Fire Department's Rescue Boat Fund. You may contact Bethel Outdoors for a sponsorship sheet, and the top sponsor raising more than $200 will get a free hot air balloon ride the following weekend. Bethel Outdoor Adventures will also be the host to the "Got Jeep" activities and obstacle course. Anyone with a Jeep is welcomed to participate. Earlier, at 9:30 a.m., the Jeeps will meet in the parking lot of the Bethel Family Health Center and then parade up the Main Street before going over to the campground. Jeep fans will also have an opportunity to view the newest and the original (60-year old) Jeeps that will be parked on display at the Snowmobile Show.

Several evening activities are planned including a free guided snowmobile ride (if you have your own equipment) from either Bethel Outdoor Adventures or Sun Valley Sports and Guide Services; to the Budweiser Aerial Assault and fireworks at Sunday River Ski Resort. For the Nordic skiing and snowshoe enthusiasts, Carter's Cross Country Ski Center will be the host of a full moon Nordic relay race starting at 5 p.m. and then a guided snowshoe tour to view the Sunday River fireworks.

Sunday, Jan. 27, will offer more exciting snowmobile events. For the beginner, Bethel Outdoor Adventures will offer two hour, learn-to-snowmobile sessions. Call them at 824-4224 for details. For those wishing to try their speed, our first annual WinterFest Radar Race will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Bethel Airport. A nominal entry fee will be charged for each attempt. This event is being organized and run by the local snowmobile clubs with radar equipment.

All weekend, folks will have a chance to view beautiful ice sculptures, which will be designed and built by area chefs and will be on display on the Bethel gazebo. Many thanks to those individuals on the WinterFest 2002 committee who are involved in making these events possible: Rocky Freda, Jeff and Pattie Parsons, Doug Wilson, Bethel Fire Department, Brad Jerome, Jordan Ginsburg, and Fred Nolte.

The second weekend's events, Jan. 31 to Feb. 3, will be described in next week's edition of The Bethel Citizen.

From the

Telstar Alumni Association

The Telstar Alumni Association held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 8, in the conference room at Telstar. Our spring fundraiser dance will be held on Saturday, May 4, at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills. The public is always invited to attend. A portion of the ticket money goes into our Memorial Fund from which we give out scholarships to graduating seniors in the spring.

There will be no Alumni Association meeting in February; the next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 12, at 6:30 p.m. at the school.

At the March 12 meeting, we would like any alumni person in the reunion year classes who would like to be a representative come to our meeting. We will be glad to help them track down classmates. Five-year class reunions are 1972 (30 years), 1977 (25 years), 1982 (20 years), 1987 (15 years), 1992 (10 years), and 1997 (five years). These years are for reunions to be planned for the summer of 2002.

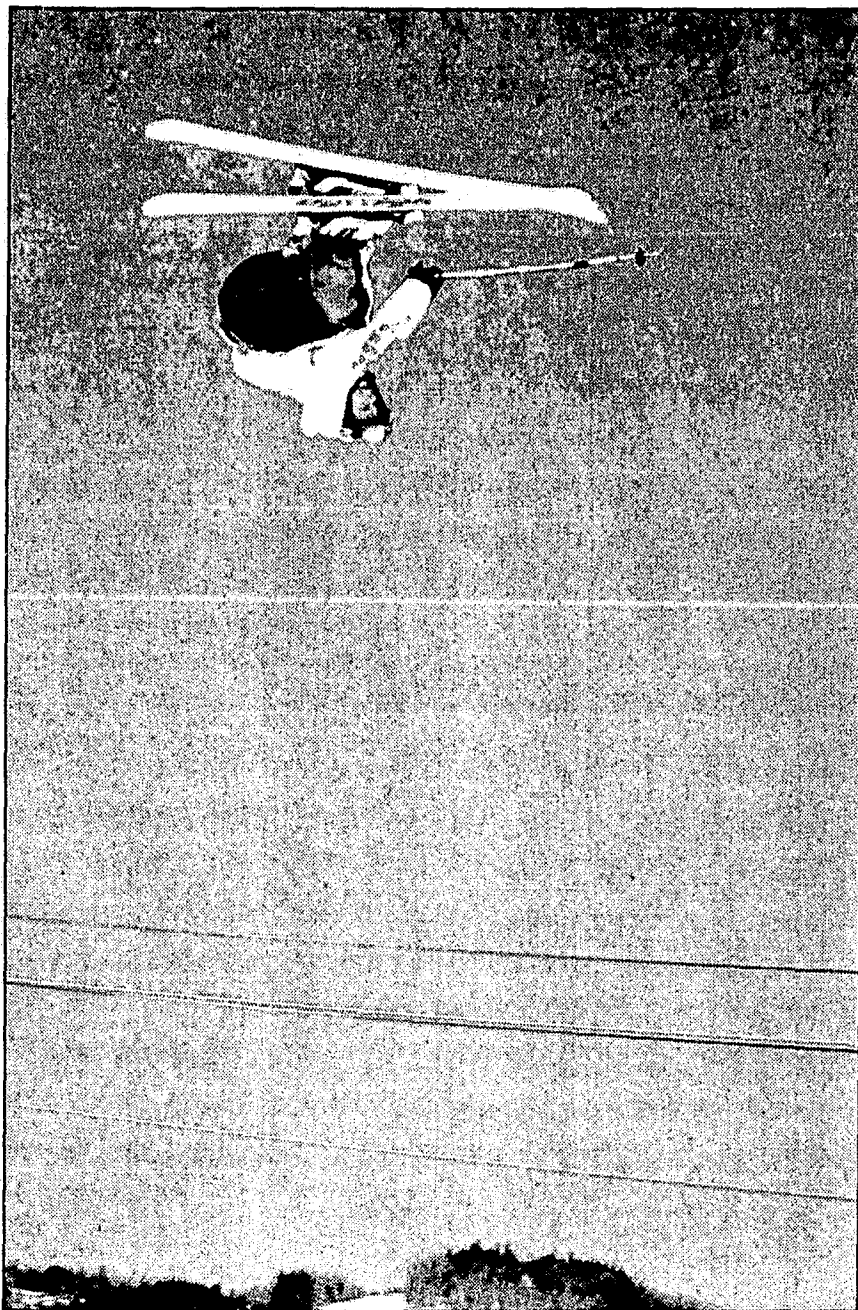

Remember that Alumni Day and Weekend will be Aug. 10 and 11. We encourage you to plan your reunions for that weekend. Also, check into classmates.com to find other classmates.

From the

Bethel Rotary Club

This week in Rotary we held Club Assembly. Kevin Finley reported for Chair Janet Black from the Club Service Committee. Look for dine-a-rounds to be planned throughout the winter and spring. Also, the scholarship season is coming upon us. Chair Dave Nivus informed us that our holiday season projects went well and that the committee is looking to schedule spring projects. Additionally, the club was asked to rank which of four Rotary lasting impression projects it would like to explore and pursue. That narrowed down list of projects includes a town clock, park, seasonal banners, and club meeting space. The International Committee, updated by Chair Dawna Cook, is working on a couple of undertakings like hosting a Rotary reception at Sunday River Resort to welcome the 100-plus International workers and organizing the quilt project in order to provide blankets for the children that Team Leader Mike Liberti will be tending to on his next Rotaplast trip to Bolivia. Vocational Committee Chair Jim Mann informed the group that its RYLA time and on the horizon is Career Day.

Thank you to all who contributed or volunteered with our several holiday projects/programs. These programs are successful because of your generosity. After a slow start, the Christmas for Children campaign was able to have a bighearted year and assisted 118 children and 54 families in our community. The program was able to service more kids this year. With the Holiday Poinsettia project, we sold more plants than last year. Thank you to Designs and others like Maine Press who assisted us with this project. The proceeds from this sale support our community projects.

About Rotary — What is RYLA? Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA) is an intensive training program for community youth leaders. Young people chosen for their leadership potential attend an expense-paid workshop/camp to discuss skills and to learn those skills through practice. Its core curriculum includes fundamentals and ethics of positive leadership; importance of communication skills; problem-solving and conflict management; Rotary's purpose and service to the community; building self-confidence and self-esteem; and elements of community and global citizenship. Officially adopted by Rotary in 1971, RYLA is one of the most significant and fastest-growing programs of Rotary service. www.rotary.org. FYLA is organized differently area to area. While the age range is 14 to 30, our area focuses on the narrower age range of high school youths. This year, our club may sponsor up to four kids and Past President Rene McGrew is organizing that application process.

Calendar Items: The month of January is Rotary Awareness Month; Jan. 17 — Golf Committee meeting; Jan 19 — Rotary International President Rick King to address the Rotary Club of South Portland and Cape Elizabeth's 40th Anniversary at his District visit; Next Country Breakfast in March; June 22 — Rotary Auction; June 24 — Rotary Golf Tournament.

Inside Rotary: How was your vacation Anita? Congrats to Liam Restaurant on its opening; Has anyone seen the Christmas for Children sign?

The Rotary Club of Bethel meets Tuesdays at 7:30 a.m. at The Bethel Inn and Country Club.

From the

Oxford County Democrats

U.S. Senate candidate Chellie Pingree was the featured speaker at the January meeting of the Oxford County Democrats on Jan. 9 at the Eagles Hall in Rumford following a beef stew supper. Addressing the crowd of more than 100, Pingree spoke eloquently on the issues of healthcare and prescription drugs, the economy, and the need to advocate for the people of Maine. She traced her political roots from her beginnings as a community activist and board member in her community of North Haven, to her upset victory in winning a legislative seat in a predominantly Republican district, and her years of service in the Maine Senate where she served as majority leader and championed nationally recognized solutions for healthcare and prescription drugs.

Following Pingree's address, brief remarks were presented by six of the seven candidates for Congress in Maine's Second District: Kaleigh Tara, former mayor of Lewiston, Senator Susan Longley of Unity, Lori Handrahan of Sorrento, David Costello of Lewiston, former Senator Sean Faircloth of Bangor, and Senator and President Pro-tem Michael Michaud of Millinocket. Stephanie Clifford, field director of the John Baldacci for Governor campaign, brought greetings from Congressman Baldacci and outlined plans for upcoming activities including a planned reception in Oxford County in March.

Local candidates, Joe Derouche, who is seeking a seat in the state Senate; Mary Ann Prue, seeking reelection as county treasurer; and Chief Jim Theriault of Mexico, who is running for sheriff, all spoke briefly. Derouche recently was designated as Maine's Economic Developer of the Year by FAME in recognition of his efforts to bring diversity to the Western Maine area through such accomplishments as the Metal Trades Training Center and the attraction of Wal-Mart.

In the business meeting following candidate presentations, Oxford County Chairperson Cathy Newell gave an update on candidate recruitment and reminded town chairs and caucus conveners of the need to complete planning for caucus which must be held on Sunday, Feb. 10. Several regional caucuses are planned including a joint caucus in Rumford for Rumford, Mexico, and Dixfield and several neighboring towns; a caucus at Telstar which will include Bethel, Greenwood, Woodstock, Hanover, Gilead, Newry and Albany; and one in Waterford which will include Stoneham. A complete list of caucus times and locations will be released by Feb. 1. The following committee members recently attended a training session for caucus conveners, Bill Gibson of West Paris, Ginger Kelly of Bethel, Lynn Baker of Waterford, John Patrick of Rumford, Jon Albrecht of Dixfield, Toni Seger of Lovell, John Jenness of Paris and Cathy Newell of Greenwood. They will provide advice to others as caucuses are planned.

The next meeting of the Oxford County Democrats will be held in Norway on Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 6 p.m. and will include a supper.

NOW News

As the New Year has arrived, many of us are beginning to work on those infamous "New Year's Resolutions." Whether it be giving up chocolate or vowing to lose those extra 10 pounds, the key is to try to stay focused on whatever goals we may set for ourselves. Anything is achievable with a positive attitude and the knowledge that we are in control of our health.

This time of year is of course a great time to give up those "unhealthy habits," with quitting smoking being number one on lists of many people. It's also a good time to look at ourselves as a whole and what we can do to improve our physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual health. The New Year is a time for new beginnings and to leave the old year behind, not forgotten, but with the mindset that this year "will only be better."

With the past tragedy of our nation, we began to realize just how quickly our lives can be taken from us and how much we may take for granted. NOW is the time to let your loved ones know how much you care for them. NOW is the time to enjoy even the smallest accomplishments. And NOW is the time to take an active role in getting healthy, being healthy, and staying healthy.

Project NOW is looking for community members interested in being trained to offer smoking cessation classes. Interested candidates should be those who have successfully quit smoking. The training is four hours on Jan. 24 and is free of charge. Trained facilitators will receive all the necessary information on this date to successfully run a community cessation class. The program is based on the American Lung Association's "Freshstart Program." Interested applicants can contact Sarah at Project NOW.

Project NOW stands for Northern Oxford Wellness and is funded through the Healthy Maine Partnership fund.

Our CPS Kindergarteners have been learning about Native American Culture

Betsy Field, community member and tutor, recently gave a presentation on the Native American Culture to the four kindergarten classes at Crescent Park School.

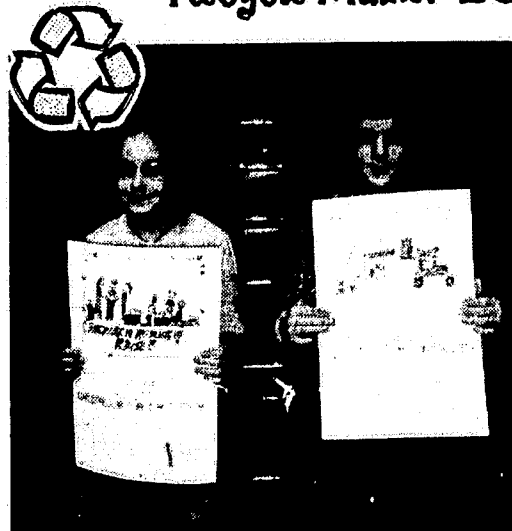

Individual kindergarten classes were provided the opportunity to explore some Native American items after the presentation.

Mrs. Sabin's Class is learning the fundamentals of writing through their daily journals Kindergarteners in Mrs. Sabin's class at CPS take their journal writing seriously. The students are writing anywhere from 2 to 10 sentences, each day, focusing on sentence structure, punctuation, spacing, and spelling. Pictured are Anna Saucier, Mattie Seamans, Cathryn Haberman-Fake, and Allie Kelly.

2 CPS Students' drawings featured in "Recycle Maine!" 2002 Calendar

Right: Chloe Bergman-Ray's winning drawing was featured in the month of April.

CPS fourth grader Chloe Bergman-Ray and second-grader Drew Wilson have their artwork featured in the "Recycle Maine!" 2002 calendar. Their drawings were among 14 selected for the calendar out of 625 statewide entries in the Maine Recycles Week Poster Contest.

Woodstock Student wins School Level National Geography Bee

Woodstock School is proud of David Lawrence, fifth-grader who was the winner of the School Level National Geography Bee for 2002. Other finalists included: Josh LaCroix, Tyler Fogg, Brittany Clark, Hillary Bryer, and Dachele Crane

Woodstock School's first RIF distribution for 2002 will be January 23. Each child from grades K-5 will be able to choose a free book to take home. Errol Silver and Ben Field are working hard under the RIF bulletin board.

They're Keeping busy at Andover Elementary School!

AES Students Josh Rainey, Isaac Mills, Sam Perham, Carson McCay and Zoe Perham enjoy a stamping cards project as part of the SAD 44 after-school program.

Andover Eagles basketball players: Darren Jodrey, Daniel Vaughn, Evan Fessenden, and Michael MacKnight.

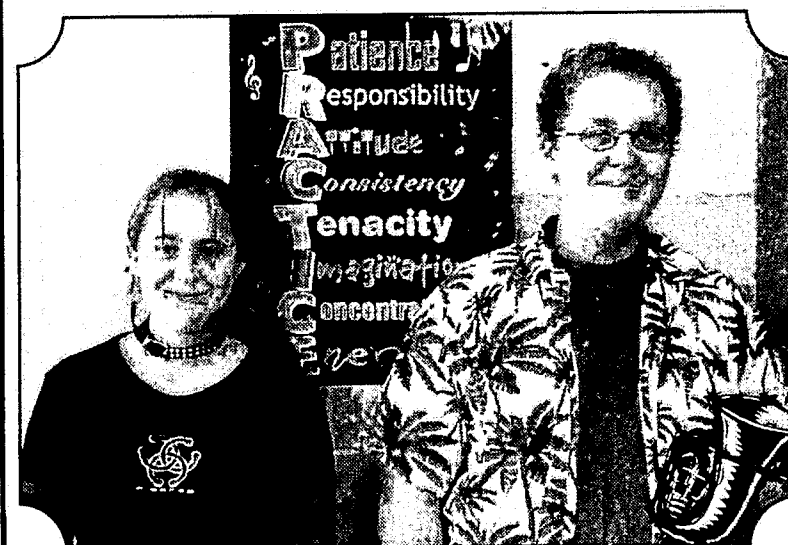

The AES kindergarten is learning about our world. Pictured here (clockwise from front) are: Kasey Smith, Jacob McGurn, Nik Conrad, Zoe Perham, Hunter Gray, Katherine Mills, and Maureen Glover.

THE SUGAR HOUSE ON THE FOSTER FARM on East Bethel Road is seen as it appeared in the late 19th century. The last Foster to reside on the farm today is Albert Foster. This photograph is among thousands that can be found at the Bethel Historical Society, which also possesses an outstanding collection of manuscripts, books, documents, and artifacts relating to western Maine and northern New Hampshire. The society is currently raising funds to establish its Regional History Center and to renovate the 1821 O'Neil Robinson House on Broad Street, which now houses exhibit galleries, offices, and the museum shop. Once the center is fully operational it will offer an expanded series of lectures, special events, conferences, courses, seminars, and publications. To learn more about this project, call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910, e-mail info@bethelhistorical.org or visit the Web site at www.bethelhistorical.org.

ROBERT L. RIPLEY

Robert L. Ripley, 59, of 131 Bethel Road, West Paris, died at his home on Thursday, Jan. 10, 2002, after a three-month fight with brain cancer.

He was born on July 18, 1942, in Portland, the son of Myra Mac Cannell Ripley and the late Ralph P. Ripley Sr. of South Paris. He was attended at his death by his wife of 40 years, Margery Tolman Ripley. "Rip," as his friends knew him, attended school in Portland and South Paris.

He worked many years at local businesses including the Shoe Shop, Snowcraft Co., Everett Excavation and the Town of Norway. At the age of 40, he was hired by the Maine Forest Service as a tower person spotting fires for the local fire departments. At that time he also returned to school to receive his high school diploma and advanced to the position of forest ranger for the Gray/New Gloucester area.

In 1985, he was transferred to the Lovell area and then to West Paris, in 1988. He continued his training throughout his 19-plus years with the Maine Forest Service and was very good at teaching firefighting to area fire departments and within the Maine Forest Service.

He was a 40-year member of the Norway Fire Department and the Maine Federation of Fire Fighters, and a charter member of the Forest Ranger Benevolent Association. He was very interested in learning about his native Mic Mac heritage and enjoyed going to Pow Wows and to Indian Reserves in Nova Scotia.

He will be sadly missed by his numerous friends, who thought of him more as a brother or a dad. His proudest members were always related to the accomplishments both large and small of his three sons, two daughters-in-law, and his five grandchildren.

Survivors include his wife of West Paris; two sons, Robert and his wife Charleen Knight, Troy and his wife Jeri Brown, his mother, and his brother, Ralph Jr. and his wife Bonnie all of South Paris; two sisters, Carol Ann and her husband, Patsy Spizuoco of Cumberland and Roberta and her husband Guy Messenger of Industry; and the joys of his life, his five grandchildren, all of South Paris. He was predeceased by his third son, Michael in 1987.

Funeral services were held Sunday, Jan. 13, at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Skeetfield Road, Oxford. Burial was at #4 Cemetery, Lovell. For those who wish, in lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Bob's memory to Michael Ripley Memorial Fund, Maine Special Olympics, Suite 19, 125 John Roberts Road, South Portland, ME 04106.

ATHALIE S. CUMMINGS

Athalie Sweett Cummings, 98, of Highland Court, Providence, R.I., formerly of Andover, died Tuesday, Jan. 15, 2002 at her home. She was the wife of the late Dr. Frank A. Cummings.

Born in Andover, a daughter of the late Chester H. and Jessie Cooper Sweett, she was a Providence resident for 60 years.

Mrs. Cummings graduated from Andover High School in the Class of 1920. She received her teaching certificate from Farmington Normal School in 1922 and her bachelor's degree in education from the University of Maine at Orono in 1924.

She taught English, French and Latin for a brief time at Andover High School. She also taught for a while at Castine Normal School.

Mrs. Cummings then moved to Providence to become social secretary for her uncle, Henry Jacobs, president of the Shepherd Co. Following his death, she enrolled at the Katherine Gibbs School in Providence and then went to work as a secretary in the engineering department at Brown University until retiring.

During World War II, she was a volunteer for the Providence Chapter of the American Red Cross. She was a past president of the Providence Garden Club and was an active communicant of the Church of St. Sebastian in Providence.

Mrs. Cummings was an avid reader and donated her book collection to the Andover Public Library. She was also talented at embroidery and intricate tray painting. She was a former member of the Handicraft Club in Providence.

Survivors include a sister, Cecilia Sweett Buchanan Adams of South Glastonbury, Conn.; a brother, Wendell Sweett of Farmington; a sister-in-law, Dorothy Sweett of Farmington; and many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by siblings, Chester V. Sweett and H. Eleanor Mosher.

Funeral services will be held Friday, Jan. 18, in the Church of St. Sebastians, Cole Avenue, Providence, R.I. Burial will be in St. Francis Cemetery, Pawtucket, R.I. Donations in her memory may be made to the Sweett Memorial Trust
